Railroad Meeting at Clinton.

A remarkably large number of the citizens of Anderson county assembled at the Court House in Clinton on Monday, the 2d day of Jan., 1871, to take into consideration the question of the interest of said county in the Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad, the people having voted and the county taken stock in the said railroad, to the amount of one hundred thousand dol-

On motion of Hon. D. K. Young, Col. Wm. Cross, Chairman of the County Court, was called to preside, when Oliver Hoskins was chosen as Secretary. Judge Young addressed the meeting, touching the proposed sale of the Knoxville and Kentucky railroad, and the legal business of said sale as to the stock of Anderson county. He was followed by Judge Houk, who also discussed the question of the right of the Legislature to divest the original stockholders of their rights of franchise vested in them by the act of incorporation and charter. He and Judge Young both contended that while under the various Acts appropriating money, and loaning the credit of the State in the shape of Bonds, the right of the Legislature might exist to sell the Cars, Iron, and other property of the Company, yet the franchise had never been transferred from those to whom it was originally granted-that under the legislation that exists on this subject, the franchise conferred by the charter remains with the Compony, cannot be transferred by the Legislature through the medium of the auction block, to the highest bidder as a mercantile remnant.

The meeting was also addressed by E. C. Edwards and others. After full discussion and consideration, the following resolutions, introduced by L. C. Houk, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we, the people of Anderson county, in Mass Convention assembled, do hereby request our County Court now in session, to appoint a committee consist-ing of three gentlemen, whose business it shall be to take such steps as may be neces-sary to guard the interest the people of Anderson county have as stockholders in the Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad

Resolved further, That said Committee be known and designated as the "Railroad Committee," and be invested with full and in every necessary manner protect all the rights of Anderson county as a stockholder in said Railroad Company; and that said Committee be fully invested by the County Court with authority to instipower and authority to look after, guard, the County Court with authority to insti-tute proceedings, if necessary, to prevent the county from losing the stock taken in said Railroad, and also to enforce the collection of the taxes due on the county subscription by citizens of the fractions of Union, Campbell and other counties. In a word, we, the people, demand that said Committee be invested with plenary pow-cr to act in the premises, so as to prevent money sharks and swindlers from defrauding us of our just rights.

After these resolutions were adopted, on motion, it was resolved that L. C. Houk, D. K. Young and John S. Ross be recommended to the County Court as the proper persons to constitute said Committee. This was by far the largest public meeting held in this county for many years. A deep and earnest feeling prevailed. After requesting the CHRONICLE to pub- anteed.

lish these proceedings, the meeting adjourned sinc dic.

WM. CRoss, Chairman. OLIVER HOSKINS, Secretary.

In accordance with the suggestion of the meeting, the County Court appointed the Committee named, and invested them with the authority recommended.-EDS. CHRONICLE.]

to Florida in Winter.

Having for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably had case of diseased lungs to healthy secundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all piaces on this continent for this purpose, in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subject to such variations as in more Northern latitudes. Palatha is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting wall.

One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatha, as the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville. It is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times, but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite, and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other pinces in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature, and it is not necessary to say that where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly. Therefore my advice is, go well down into the State—out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or aimast any other of the localities I have named, will benefit these who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat or cough, b

For fifteen years prior to 1869, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive—embracing every possible phase of lung disease—has enabled me to understand the disease fully, and hence my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schenek's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold. In Porida nearly courably in spine Schenek's Mandrake Pills, "and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold. of "Schenok's Pulmonic Syrup, Scaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold. In Florida, nearly everybody is using Schenek's Mandrake Pills, for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more Northern latitudes. It is a well-established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption, especially those of the Southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one third, at least, of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States it does not prevail so largely, still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh cold as they are about scarlet fever, small pax, &c. But they are not. They take what they term a little cold, which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope for cure.

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected, even slightly is, to lay in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Scaweed Tonic and Schenck's Mandrake Pills and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that where they are used in strict accordance with my directions they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, nature will do the work that is required.

and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines because I am thoroughly acquained with their action. I know that where they are used in strict accordance with my directions they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, nature will de the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough or night-sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpes on his hands before long.

My plan is to give my three medicines, in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is to give tone to the stomach—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food and the gratification of that relish comes good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs. Then the cough losesns and abates, the creeping chilis and clammy night-sweats no longer presertate and annoy, and the patient gets well—provided he avoids taking cold.

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such! Certainly there is. My advise to such it, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about swenty degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his etrength will pormit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system and can do so again. Consumption is ac easily cured as any other disease, if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, and Scawced Toule have sured wery many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where yet will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who cines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be lought from any drugglet.

The want of a medicine of this character has long been felt by the community, and has induced the proprietors, by over thirty years' trial in private, to introduce it for the benefit of the public as a staple family medicine. It does not act as an astringent alone, but by reducing the acidity of the secreting membranes of of the bowels, reduces the inflammation, hence performs a thorough cure.

The proprietors take the liberty of stating to the public, that no more perfect receipt (which is guaranteed for the cure of the above-mentioned diseases) exists in the world, being entirely vegetable and containing no sugar of lead or other noxious drug or mineral. And they would further say that the preparation has met the hearty approval of numerous physicians who have used it.

DIRECTIONS: To adults, a tablespoonful after each passage, or four times a day; To children under ten, a half-tablespoonful as required. To children under five 2 teaspoonful. To children under two or three, a half-teaspoonful, as required, and by carefully administering as directed it will never fail.
